Qualification Overview

This qualification introduces the learner to the principles of Equality and Diversity and its importance in organisations such as the workplace and learning environments. It provides an understanding of the legal and moral obligations of an employee to recognise best practice. The learner will gain knowledge of current legislation which makes the law more consistent, clearer and easier to follow in order to make society fairer.

There are several features of this qualification that make it very appropriate for its target learners:

- Assessment and certification can be offered throughout the year, allowing maximum flexibility for centres
- Can be delivered either as a classroom-based course or as a blended learning programme
- Assessments are primarily offered through an online multiple-choice test that will normally be taken at the end of the course
- There are online resources that can be used alongside the teaching

Aims

The aims of the qualification are to enable learners:

- To gain understanding of the legal and moral principles of Equality and Diversity
- To gain understanding of current equality law, how it impacts on equality and diversity and the groups offered legal protection when providing goods, facilities or services to the public
- To be able to identify negative behaviours and actions and to understand how individuals and organisations can take action to remain lawful and support equality and diversity when providing goods, facilities or services to the public

Target Group

This qualification is aimed at a range of learners who are interested in developing knowledge in Equality and Diversity, either as part of their job role or to enable them to contribute fairly to society in general.

The range of learners includes:

- Employees and work-based learners
- Full-time students
- Unemployed learners wishing to enhance their work-related skills
