Qualification Overview

The Ascentis Level 1 Certificate in Digital Skills for Business focuses on the learner's ability to develop the digital skills required to participate in employment within a business setting.

Due to the increased need for distance working, employees are engaging with online communication technologies like never before, in addition to their ever-present need to interact with traditional software applications/packages. Learners will develop and use a range of skills that will be beneficial in a business environment, including setting up and participating in video meetings, utilising email software, creating word-processed documents and using spreadsheets to process numerical data.

There are several features of this qualification that makes it very appropriate for its target learners:

- Verification and certification can be offered throughout the year, allowing maximum flexibility for centres
- It can be delivered either as a classroom-based course or as a blended learning programme
- Evidence can be generated within a wide range of organisational contexts, allowing the qualification to meet the specific occupational requirements of the learners

Aims

The aims of this qualification are for learners to be able to:

- Use video communication technologies to participate in online meetings
- Use emailing software to manage business communication effectively
- Create word-processed documents for a business purpose
- Process numerical data for a business purpose
- Work safely and securely online following organisational guidelines and policies
- Explore software packages to store and edit data

Target Group

These qualifications are aimed at a range of learners, including:

Assessment Method

All units are internally assessed through the learner building up a portfolio of evidence that covers the relevant assessment criteria. They are internally assessed and verified by the centre and then externally verified by Ascentis.

On completion of the learners' evidence for the Certificate, the assessor is required to complete the Summary Record of Achievement for each learner. The Summary Record of Achievement asks assessors and the internal verifier to confirm that the rules of combination have been followed. This is particularly important in cases where a learner has taken units at different levels.
