ABOUT ASCENTIS

Ascentis was originally established in 1975 as OCNW, a co-operative scheme between Universities and Colleges of Further Education. Ascentis was the first 'Open College' in the UK and served the needs of its members for over 34 years. Throughout this period, OCNW grew yet maintained its independence in order that it could continue to respond to the requirements of its customers and provide a consistently high standard of service to all centres across the country and in recent years to its increasing cohorts of overseas learners.

In 2009 OCNW became Ascentis - a company limited by guarantee and a registered educational charity.

Ascentis is distinctive and unusual in that it is both:

- an Awarding Organisation regulated by the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual), Qualifications in Wales (QiW), Council for the Curriculum Examinations and Assessment (CCEA)

and

- an Access Validating Agency (AVA) for 'Access to HE Programmes' licensed by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA).

Ascentis is therefore able to offer a comprehensive ladder of opportunities to centres and their students, including Foundation Learning, vocational programmes and progressing to QAA recognised Access to HE qualifications. The flexible and adult-friendly ethos of Ascentis has resulted in centres throughout the UK choosing to run its qualifications.

ASCENTIS AWARDS AND CERTIFICATES IN ESOL SKILLS FOR LIFE

Introduction

The Ascentis ESOL Skills for Life qualifications are based on the National Standards for Adult Literacy and are closely related to the ESOL Core Curriculum. They are designed specifically for people living in Britain and focus on preparing learners for the world of work or citizenship. The primary aim of the Ascentis ESOL Skills for Life qualifications is to assist the learner in becoming independent of others (such as interpreters or translators; be they professionals, family or friends) when interacting with native English-speakers, both in a work environment and elsewhere. By improving their communication and fluency in English, learners will significantly improve their employability skills. Furthermore, these learners will benefit from the development of the ability to access service providers and to have the linguistic confidence to travel, work and socialise beyond their local community.

There are several features of these qualifications that make them appropriate for their target learners:

- Clear linkage between the ESOL Core Curriculum and the Ascentis-devised task based controlled assessment tasks
- Each unit is internally assessed
- External assessments are internally marked by centre assessors and then externally verified by Ascentis
- Mark schemes are user friendly and provide sufficient detailed information to support consistent assessment decisions.
- Assessment dates are determined by the centre, not Ascentis
- Each unit can be achieved as a qualification in its own right.

Aims

The aims of the qualifications are to enable learners

- 1 To take a full part in the world of work
- 2 To become independent of others, such as interpreters or translators
- 3 To access service providers
- 4 To travel, work and socialise beyond their local community

Target Group

These qualifications are aimed at a range of learners, including

- Settled minority communities
- Refugees/asylum seekers

Rationale for the Rules of Combination

ESOL learners may develop their listening, speaking, reading and writing skills in English at different rates. For example, a learner may be more proficient at speaking and listening than reading and writing. Learners may simply have had more exposure to spoken language, or they may have learned a different script in their first language and need longer to develop reading and writing skills in English. Learners may also have had varying experiences or lengths of time in full-time education prior to beginning a course in ESOL Skills for Life. For this reason, learners may take in an Award in each separate mode of speaking and listening, reading and writing. Learners may also achieve a “spiky profile” in the full certificate

To achieve the Award in Speaking and Listening, Reading or Writing learners must complete the appropriate unit at the level of the qualification.

To achieve the Certificate learners must complete 27 credits by completing 2 units at the level of the qualification and one unit at the level of the qualification or above.

Unit certification is available for all units at the level of the qualification.

Recommended Guided Learning Hours

The recommended guided learning hours for this qualification is 270 GLH for all units, 120 GLH for Speaking and Listening, 90 GLH for Writing and 60 GLH for Reading. The expectation for these Ascentis qualifications is that the learner should follow a taught course of at least 30 hours.

Any centre that wishes to offer less than the GLH (or no taught course element) should contact the Ascentis office. A centre would then be reviewed on its own merits.

In order to be approved to offer a “test only” delivery of the qualification, the criteria likely to be considered are:

- The length of time that the qualification has been delivered by the centre
- The experience of the staff team
- Evidence of consistent sound delivery. For example, no action points being raised by the external verifier at recent verification visits
- The provision of specific training for assessors regarding good practice in assessing candidates who have not taken a taught course

Total Qualification Time

The total qualification time for this qualification is 120 for Speaking and Listening, 90 for Writing and 60 for Reading. The total qualification time for the ESOL Skills for Life Certificate is 270.

Recommended Prior Knowledge, Attainment and/or Experience

No previous formal qualifications are required for entry to these qualifications at Entry 1. Learners should be able to evidence English skills at the level below their chosen entry point to these qualifications.

Age Range of Qualification

These qualifications are suitable for young people aged 14-19 and adult learners.

Opportunities for Progression

These qualifications are made up of three Entry levels, Level 1 and Level 2. Learners may progress through the levels from Entry 1 to Level 2 by successfully achieving each level in turn.

Centre Recognition

These qualifications can only be offered by centres recognised by Ascentis and approved to run the qualifications. Details of the centre recognition and qualification approval process are available from the Ascentis office (tel. 01524 845046) or from the website at www.ascentis.co.uk.

Qualification Approval

If your centre is already a recognised centre, you will need to complete and submit a qualification approval form to deliver these qualifications. Details of the qualification approval process are available from the Ascentis office (tel. 01524 845046) or from the website at www.ascentis.co.uk.

Registration

Candidates MUST be registered electronically via the Ascentis electronic registration portal prior to the intended assessment date. Guidance can be downloaded from the Ascentis website at www.ascentis.co.uk. Learner registered on the individual awards who complete the necessary rules of combination may claim the full certificate. The claim form for the full certificate may be found on the Ascentis website in the Resources/Key Documents section.

Status in England, Wales and Northern Ireland

These qualifications are available in England, Wales and Northern Ireland. If you wish to deliver these qualifications in any other nation, please contact the Ascentis Development Team.

These qualifications are only offered in English.

Reasonable Adjustments and Special Considerations

In the development of these qualifications Ascentis has made every effort to ensure that there are no unnecessary barriers to achievement. For learners with particular requirements reasonable adjustments may be made in order that they can have fair assessment and demonstrate attainment. There are also arrangements for special consideration for any learner suffering illness, injury or indisposition. Full details of the reasonable adjustments and special considerations are available from the log in area of the Ascentis website www.ascentis.co.uk or through contacting the Ascentis office.

Inclusive statements

Ascentis ESOL Skills for Life assessments are intended to be as inclusive as possible to a wide range of candidates without affecting the integrity of the qualification. This includes:

Speaking, Listening and Communication

- Can include access to augmentative speech equipment and such software as constitutes the learner's normal way of working
- Does not depend on the use of written language or requires the individual/s with whom the learner is communicating to be able to read
- Where written instructions are issued to learners, the use of a human reader may be permitted.

Reading

- Text is defined as materials that include the use of words that are written, printed, on screen or presented using Braille
- A human reader cannot be used to demonstrate the requirements of the standards for reading, as this does not meet the requirements for independence
- An electronic reader may be used under certain conditions, where its use does not impact on the assessment of the learner's reading ability.

Writing

- Text is defined as materials that include the use of words that are written, printed, on screen, or presented using Braille and which are presented in a way that is accessible for the intended audience
- A human scribe, speech recognition technology or other writing aid may be used under certain conditions, where its use does not compromise the valid assessment of the learner's own skills.

Enquiries and Appeals Procedure

Ascentis has an appeals procedure in accordance with the regulatory arrangements in the Ofqual General Conditions of Recognition and the Qualifications Wales Criteria for Recognition. Full details of this procedure, including how to make an application, are available from the log in area of the Ascentis website www.ascentis.co.uk or through contacting the Ascentis office.

ASSESSMENT AND VERIFICATION ARRANGEMENTS

Assessment

Task-based Controlled Assessment

The Ascentis Awards and Certificates in ESOL Skills for Life require evidence of achievement of all the skills and activities that are set out in each unit within the specification. Each unit is assessed through the completion of tasks provided by Ascentis. The successful achievement of all the tasks for a unit provides confirmation that all learning outcomes and assessment criteria within the units of assessment have been achieved. Assessments are internally marked by centre assessors and then internally verified to ensure consistency. The assessments will then be externally verified by Ascentis.

Mark schemes are provided for the assessment and they give sufficient detailed information to support consistent assessment decisions. Assessors should judge their learners' performance against these criteria following the detailed mark schemes.

The centre must retain evidence of the assessments for 4 weeks after the date of the external verification in case of appeal.

A bank of assessments is written and provided by Ascentis. After centres have registered learners via QuartzWeb, Ascentis' e-portal, they will have access to this bank of assessments at the relevant level. Once downloaded, these must be stored in centres under secure conditions. Centres will also be able to download a file for the Listening assessments.

This specification provides an indication of the kind of assessments the learner is going to be asked to perform and of the skills to be assessed. However, the exact content of the task is not made available. The 'live' tasks cannot be altered or amended and must be carried out by the learner under supervised conditions. Ascentis will provide tasks for each unit at each level and a guide time for the completion of the tasks is given for the guidance of tutors.

Learners cannot be assessed through the same task more than once. If a learner is unsuccessful in an assessment he/she may be given another opportunity for assessment, but this must be through a different task. It is a centre's responsibility to monitor the use of the assessments and their security. Sample assessment tasks are available on the Ascentis website which can be used as practice materials with the learners.

Conduct of Assessment

The approved tasks must be taken under supervised conditions as follows:

- Learners may be within a classroom environment but must be supervised by the tutor, assessor or invigilator at all times.
- It is possible for the different tasks of a unit to be completed over different sessions. If the tasks for a unit are completed over different sessions a learner should be given only the task that they are expected to complete during that session. Papers are designed so that each task can be separated. Each task must be completed in a single session.
- All assessment papers must be clearly marked with the learner's name and assessment date and handed in at the end of each session.
- The evidence in progress must be securely kept and not contaminated by learner evidence produced elsewhere.
- Only work produced and completed under supervised conditions may be included as the evidence for externally approved activity for any learner. All work must be retained by the assessor.

- Centres are required to complete an attendance list for each unit – Speaking and Listening, Reading and Writing. Attendance lists are available via QuartzWeb.

Timings

Assessment materials contain guide times or word counts for completing tasks. These times are approximate and are provided for the guidance of tutors in order to help them plan assessment sessions.

Speaking and Listening

The listening part of the speaking and listening unit is assessed through recorded listening tasks. Assessment is made on the basis of the learning outcomes and assessment criteria for the unit and definitions from the Adult ESOL Core Curriculum. Learners will listen to two or three recordings (depending on the level of the assessment) and answer questions based on gist, detail and response to instructions. Although tutors should explain the nature of the task and may read out the questions they must not help the learners with the listening part of the task. Written responses are required for the listening tasks, and only at Entry 1 may the tutor write down the learner's answer if this proves a difficulty. This is not permissible at other levels unless the learner requires reasonable adjustments or special consideration. Guidance is available on pages 8-9 of this specification or through contacting the Ascentis quality assurance team at: qualityassurance@ascentis.co.uk

All Speaking tasks must be recorded for every learner and stored as an MP3 or other digital file. Centres should not use audio cassette tapes for this purpose.

Speaking assessments at all levels involve working with others in order to meet the assessment criteria. Assessors must ensure that they assess individual performance. There may be occasions when the weaker performance of other learners within a group may adversely affect another learner's ability to meet the assessment criteria. In these situations the assessor needs to ensure that the learner is not disadvantaged. Learners complete two speaking tasks which are assessed using the learning outcomes and assessment criteria for the unit.

In the speaking and listening assessment it is possible to separate the three tasks. For example, a learner may complete the listening task from one assessment and take a speaking task 1 from another assessment set. Learners must achieve all assessment criteria in the listening section and two speaking tasks to secure achievement. Two opportunities are provided for learners to meet each assessment criterion.

Reading

The questions for the Reading tasks will be written at or below the level of the assessment so that learners can read them. At Entry 1 tutors may read out the question rubrics if a learner is struggling and the tutor may write down the learner's answer if this proves a difficulty. However, at other levels the question rubrics cannot be read out and the learners are expected to write the answers themselves. Learners should not be penalised by miss-spelt or poorly written responses, if the content is correct. The key criterion is that the learners show evidence of reading and understanding. Each reading assessment allows learners to meet each assessment criterion from the unit of assessment three times. Learners must meet each assessment criterion at least once to secure achievement. There is also a requirement to achieve a numerical mark across the assessment paper to show evidence of reading ability across a range of tasks and text types. A full assessment paper must be completed for secure achievement; tasks within the paper may be attempted on different occasions but must all be completed from the same assessment set for secure achievement. Learners cannot attempt individual tasks from different papers.

Reading Online Assessments

The Reading assessments are available as online assessments at all five levels: Entry 1, Entry 2, Entry 3, Level 1, and Level 2. Three live sets are provided per academic year together with practice sets and a functionality resource that helps tutors and learners build skills in taking the assessments online.

These assessments are hosted online and marked by the secure e-assessment platform, Surpass, but they are not remote assessments and must be completed in controlled conditions in the centre. The online assessments do not replace the paper versions; they run alongside them. The content of each online set is the same as the content of the corresponding paper-based set. It is the centre's responsibility to ensure that learners do not take the same set in online and paper-based formats.

If you already have qualification approval for Ascentis ESOL, your centre must complete a short form to request access to the online assessments—please contact Quality Assurance for this. This form asks centres to consider and provide information on certain aspects of the provision, such as how learners are inducted and introduced to online assessments and what support they will be given in advance of their assessments. Centres are also asked to declare awareness that the online assessments are part of the appropriate IQA procedures in respect of content delivery and preparing learners for assessment, and that they are subject to Ascentis External Quality Assurance processes.

Once centres have registered learners, they will need to schedule them for the online assessments by following the steps outlined in the e-assessment guidance which can be found on the Ascentis website.

Writing

Tutors may provide full tutor support to ensure that the learner understands the task or questions and, at Entry 1, can read them out aloud if necessary, though the emphasis should be on learners reading them for themselves. However, learners must form and write a response without assistance. If a learner does not achieve a task they may complete the equivalent task from a different paper. The assessment paper consists of three tasks. The first task of each assessment paper is a form to be completed. The following two tasks allow the learner to meet the range of learning outcomes and assessment criteria. The mark schemes include definitions from the Adult ESOL Core Curriculum to support assessment decisions.

Use of Dictionaries within Assessments

The use of dictionaries, online or print copies, is not allowed.

Grading

These qualifications are not graded.

Verification

Quality Assurance

Ascentis has specific measures in place to ensure the rigorous quality assurance of ESOL Skills for Life qualifications. These include:

- The practice of a two-year rule to demonstrate sound performance. Centres normally have to be in operation for two years before ESOL Skills for Life can be approved for delivery
- An experienced team of External Quality Assurers
- Unannounced EQA visits during assessments
- Regular Regional Quality Meetings for centre practitioners

Internal Verification

Internal verification is the process of ensuring that everyone who assesses a particular unit in a centre is assessing to the same standards, i.e., consistently and reliably. Internal verification activities will include: ensuring any stimulus or materials used for the purposes of assessment are fit for purpose; sampling assessments; standardisation of assessment decisions; standardisation of internal verification decisions. Internal Verifiers are also responsible for supporting assessors by providing constructive advice and guidance in relation to the qualification delivered.

Ascentis offer free refresher training in support of this role through an Ascentis Internal Quality Assurance course. The purpose of the course is to provide staff in centres with knowledge and understanding of Ascentis IQA processes and procedures, which will enable them to carry out their role more effectively. To book your place on a course or request further information, please contact the Ascentis Quality Assurance Team (qualityassurance@ascentis.co.uk).

Further information is available from the log in area of the Ascentis website www.ascentis.co.uk

External Verification

Recognised centres will be verified in accordance with a verification model that is considered most appropriate for the provision. More frequent verifications can be requested from the Ascentis Quality Assurance team, for which there is usually an additional charge. External verification will usually focus on the following areas:

- Ensuring the centre is using appropriate assessment methods and making appropriate assessment decisions according to Ascentis' requirements.
- Ensuring the centre has appropriate internal quality assurance arrangements as outlined within the relevant qualification specification.
- Checking that the centre is using appropriate administrative arrangements to support the function of delivery and assessment.

External Quality Assurers will usually do this through discussion with the centre management team; assessment and Internal Quality Assurance staff; verifying a sample of learners' evidence; talking to learners, reviewing relevant centre documentation and systems.

Knowledge, Understanding and Skills required of Assessors and Internal Verifiers

Those delivering and assessing the qualifications should hold a recognised teaching qualification such as the Level 4 Certificate in Education and Training or Level 5 Diploma in Education and Training and ideally a specialist ESOL teaching qualification such as the Ascentis Level 5 Diploma in Teaching English: ESOL, or be working towards such qualifications.

Centres are responsible for ensuring that all staff involved in the delivery of the qualification are appropriately qualified. Ascentis will not be held responsible for any issues that relate to centre staffing which could impact on the successful delivery, assessment and internal quality assurance of our qualifications.

Those delivering the qualification should preferably hold or be working towards a recognised teaching qualification. Assessors must be able to make appropriate assessment decisions. Internal Quality Assurers need to have knowledge and experience of the internal quality assurance processes.

Centres are required to ensure that appropriate training and support is in place for staff involved in the delivery, assessment and internal verification of Ascentis qualifications.

Ascentis offers free support for centres. Further information on the support that is available can be found on the Ascentis website.
