Qualification Overview

The Ascentis Level 1 Award in Infection Control and Prevention introduces learners to the principles of infection control and prevention in daily life. It considers the different causes of infection and how infection is spread. Learners will also be able to identify their responsibilities and that of others in controlling and preventing infection and gain a clear understanding of the importance of good personal hygiene.

There are several features of this qualification that make it very appropriate for its target learners:

- Assessment and certification can be offered throughout the year, allowing maximum flexibility for centres
- It can be delivered either as a classroom-based course or as a blended learning programme
- Assessments are primarily offered through an online multiple-choice test that will normally be taken at the end of the course. Assessments can be requested as a paper-based assessment, where required as a reasonable adjustment
- There are online resources that can be used alongside the teaching
